

There's something about the Sonoran desert. Maybe it's the consistent sunshine—a reliable 350 days of it each year—or the majestic Santa Catalina Mountains.

Perhaps it's the land itself. Some swear there's magic in the earth here, and we won't say otherwise. We see magic happen here every day. Whatever the reason, it's simply easy to feel well here. Which is why this was a perfect place for Miraval Resorts to be born. Our original wellness destination in the singular Sonoran Desert has bloomed; inspired resorts have since been born in other regions across the country. But there's only one Miraval Arizona.
